

KEILAH MALDONADO

Lancaster Mennonite School
Class of 2011

LANCASTER MENNONITE SCHOOL saved Keilah Maldonado's life educationally. Before transferring to Lancaster Mennonite, Keilah was having difficulty with even basic math. Once at LMS, Keilah found out immediately that the teachers truly cared about her. Not only did Keilah soon understand more about her times tables, but her confidence in her abilities, and in her potential, were multiplied: "I realized how much better I felt about myself."

Keilah was drawn to Lancaster Mennonite School's distinctive characteristics: Christ-centered, educational excellence, faith-infused opportunities, caring community, peace and service. Keilah says, "LMH is a place where kids can feel comfortable because of our faith, because we can share our beliefs with each other and converse about them."

Through LMS, she achieved her goal of being accepted at Huntington University. Keilah feels prepared because she's learned a few other things at Lancaster Mennonite, like holding herself to high standards in everything she says and does. That, she says, is "one of the best things a teenager could be taught."

DR. SARA FENSKE

Linden Hall School
Chair of Science Department

DR. SARA FENSKE chairs the science department at Linden Hall School in Lititz. She coauthored an article published in a 2010 issue of the Journal of Biological Chemistry. The article was the product of Dr. Fenske's collaborations with fellow scientists at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Harvard Medical School in Boston. This most recent article marks the third time that Dr. Fenske has coauthored a published paper stemming from her doctoral research at MIT.

Dr. Fenske leads the all Ph.D. credentialed science department at Linden Hall while teaching Honors Biology, Genetics, Forensic Science, Environmental Science and Life Science. "Sara is a brilliant teacher," says Linden Hall Headmaster Dr. Vincent M. Stumpo. "The entire Linden Hall community is proud of Dr. Fenske and her accomplishments, and we recognize what an opportunity it is for our students to work with faculty members who are both gifted teachers and active scholars."

Our students work with GIFTED teachers & ACTIVE scholars
