Our school rocks

J. Richard Thomas

On the first day of school in late August we experienced the east coast earthquake that was the largest in a century for this area. The next day I visited an elementary classroom and made some students chuckle when I said, "Our school rocks," during some comments about the quake.

In Hebrews chapter 12 we read that things that can be shaken reveal what cannot be shaken. The writer then reminds us that we are part of God's kingdom that cannot be shaken.

Last spring it was rewarding to participate in some Senior Presentations and to hear students talk about their holistic growth while at Lancaster Mennonite School. They described the transformation that happened as they grew deeper in knowing the love of God and living in God's unshakable Kingdom.

Educational excellence at LMS results in transformation as reflected in the Senior Presentations. It also is reflected in the family tradition of investing in an LMS education.

This fall we welcomed ninth grader Matthew Eshleman, who spent his elementary years at Hinkletown Mennonite School. Matthew is the son of Daryl Eshleman, class of 1988. His grandparents, Robert and Anna Ruth (Neff) Eshleman, both graduated from LMS in 1965. His great grandmother, Elizabeth (Betty) Sauder Eshleman, who died in 2003, was a member of the first LMS graduating class in 1943. We celebrate alumni (and students!) who are changing our world as they witness to God's kingdom that cannot be shaken.

Our school "rocks" because of the academic and extracurricular opportunities it provides, and also because it forms lives for the Kingdom of God that cannot be shaken. ❖

PRESENTATIONS BUILD COMMUNITY

Senior rite of passage

From the editor: The Senior Presentation, a requirement for all seniors, gives students a chance to review their K-12 education, reflect on how they have grown, and discuss career plans. Since the presentations are shared with family, friends, teachers and pastors—generally in an intimate setting after school—they also are a wonderful opportunity for loved ones to support and affirm the students. As you read these 10 Senior Presentation excerpts, I suspect that you, like me, will experience afresh a deep thankfulness that our youth have the opportunity to grow and flourish at a place like Lancaster Mennonite School.

POLLY YIXIN ZHANG

Making the decision to come here from Beijing, China, was really hard for me and my family. Looking back, I'm really grateful to the Lord for giving me this opportunity.

I love business so I was in FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) when I first came to LMH. In the second year, I served as treasurer. In FBLA competition I advanced to the state level both years. FBLA helped me learn more about business and become more comfortable being in a leadership role.

The faculty is one of the best parts of LMH. I got a lot of help from them, both academically and spiritually. LMH also helped me find friendships that I will hold on to, and taught me about different aspects of American culture as I experienced both the residence hall and living with a host family.

The greatest thing that happened during my years in LMH was I began believing in God. LMH definitely played a key role in my spiritual journey. Here I first knew about God, had my first Bible class, and got my first Bible.

DOMINIK BERTHOLD

I started attending Lancaster Mennonite School in sixth grade. Transitioning from a primarily Hispanic/African American populated elementary school in Lancaster City to a mostly white Mennonite school was an interesting step for me. For the most part, I loved the move, primarily because I could exercise my faith much easier in a Christian school. One aspect I missed was the diversity, but as LMH has progressed, I have seen more and more ethnicities, races, and cultures join the school, and that has been fun to witness.

Athletics have always played an enormous role in my life; Lancaster Mennonite High School has given me the chance to develop my skills in soccer and tennis.

Not only have sports kept me active physically, but also socially and spiritually. Coming into high school the first year, I made instant friends on the soccer team. Also, coach Fred Winey always emphasized not only being good soccer players but good followers of Christ, on and off the field.

“Attending Lancaster Mennonite High School has been the greatest decision I have ever made.”

- Isaiah Rivera, 2011

The Senior Presentation grew out of the school's educational strategic plan to become more deliberate in helping students identify God-given gifts, interests and career options.

To prepare for this senior activity, students maintain a vocational portfolio for the duration of their education at Lancaster Mennonite. Along the way, faculty advisors guide students in reflection of their experiences.

LMH has played a key role in spiritual development in my life. Chapels, although sometimes boring, have been a nice way to start my day with God every morning. I have attended Friday morning Bible study throughout high school, and it has also been a way to strengthen my faith. This year a friend started a guys Thursday morning Bible study. This Bible study has given me accountability and keeps me knowledgeable about the Bible.

I have learned so much these past four years in academics, athletics, and spirituality, and I'm so glad that LMH has prepared me for my future.

CAROLINE AUGSBURGER

Just like my older brother and sister, I too, have had an awesome experience at LMH. For me, it came from two distinct areas—the athletic program and traveling opportunities.

I chose to be part of the girls soccer and field hockey teams since my freshman year and have never for a moment regretted that decision. Being able to be in the team huddle after winning the State Soccer Championship in 2008, and having my name announced over the loudspeaker at Hershey Stadium in the field hockey district title game are moments I hope to always remember.

One aspect of the team I will never forget is the coaches. I've played for Coach Dale Stoltzfus for all four years of my high school soccer career and for Cicely Berkey for my last two years on the field hockey team. Some of the biggest lessons I've learned during high school have come from these two coaches.

Having the chance to play for a team that held a central faith gave me such a different experience from what I could've ever received at a public school. Praying before games as a team has come to be a natural part of the sport for me, and it is something I will always be thankful for. As I head to Bridgewater College to play soccer, I know it is going to take a tremendous coaching staff to replace those I've been able to play for at LMH.

Also, I would never trade the four weeks I spent living with my host family during my Argentina mini course. I would certainly say my most "tangible" benefit from the trip is the confidence I have in my Spanish. But the friends I made, two of whom I keep in constant contact with, are by far my favorite aspect of the trip. And being able to connect and worship with other Mennonites in a different hemisphere was awesome. I hope I can return to Choel Choel someday.

ISAIAH RIVERA

Attending Lancaster Mennonite High School has been the greatest decision I have ever made. I can honestly say that this is the place where I found myself.

I got involved in the drama department and there I discovered what I love doing the most—acting. Some exciting classes such as Campus Chorale, Advanced Music, and Drama Performance helped me grow in the areas that interest me the most, and I was thrilled to find that Lancaster Mennonite offered that opportunity.

One of the greatest blessings of my years in LMH has been the encouragement and support from my teachers. Teachers like Marcella Hostetler, Dean Sauder, and Kris Horst have really encouraged me to live my life for Christ, to follow my dreams, and to excel in whatever it is that I love and want to do in the future.

I am so grateful to the Lord for blessing me and providing a way for me to come to Lancaster Mennonite. As I pursue my career in film ... I will never forget all of the amazing experiences I had at Lancaster Mennonite that started me off toward my dream.

LUKE WEIERBACH

My life has changed dramatically over the past four years. Although some of the experiences were hard, I wouldn't trade them for the world. Because, even with the loss of a close friend ... I found that God is still there for you.

When I first started my Senior Presentation, I just wanted to get it done and be over with it. But as I started to put time and effort into it, there was something valuable about looking back. I thought about the times that really molded me as a human and a Christian. I thought about how I reacted to those situations, and how I could have handled them differently.

I thought about the relationships I made and those that expired before my eyes. I thought about the teachers I had and the friends I made, and how, if it weren't for them, I don't think I could have made it through.

ERIC KEMP

Throughout my years at Lancaster Mennonite, I have learned many skills that will assist me in changing the lives of others. Although I live in the city school district, I was blessed to go to Lancaster Mennonite. LMH has strengthened me spiritually, socially, and physically.

During my high school years, I have gained friendships that will last a lifetime. My close friend group comes mainly from sports. Basketball and baseball also have taught me life lessons such as team work, self dedication and hard work.

The teaching staff at Lancaster Mennonite has influenced my life in a dramatic way. Mr. Buckwalter, Mrs. Diffenbach, and Mr. Dietzel are among the teachers who have really sparked my mind into thinking about my future life. Their classes have prepared me for college as well as life in the real world. My love of music and hymns has grown in the past year under the direction of Mrs. Hostetler. She helped me appreciate music on an entirely new level. When asked to sing solos, she was always available before and after school and on weekends to practice. This is the LMH difference.

VALERIE HEISEY

Going to Kraybill Mennonite School and LMH from kindergarten to grade 12 has really challenged me in every area of my life. The academics have been challenging, and the teachers here are amazing.

The biggest impact LMH has had on me these last four years is the school's love and compassion that I have felt. During my sophomore year I lost my big sister and best friend, Victoria, which has been extremely hard on me. It caused me to question God's power and love, but with the support of friends and teachers I have been able to see the positive through the situation. In the fall of my senior year, I was able to really understand what God wanted me to get out of my sister's passing. I realized God desires to be my best friend and wants me to go to him with everything.

There has been a lot of tears and pain over the last two years, but with LMH's Christian community I have been able to find joy again and value my relationship with Christ.

ZACH ZOOK

Attending LMS for the last six years has given me the opportunity to explore my interests and talents in athletics, music and academics, and I am very grateful for the support of my family and extended family throughout all my

New Kraybill principal eager to serve

Daniel Martin, Kraybill's new principal, loves his campus. You can see it when he greets children enthusiastically in the morning. And you can see it when he walks through the halls, proudly pointing out creative bulletin boards that announce exciting learning opportunities.

Prior to his new position, Martin served Kraybill as middle school principal. He replaces John Weber who retired in June after 22 years at Kraybill.

Martin recently talked about his goals for the year. They include meeting regularly with new teachers, offering parenting classes, promoting acceptance of differences and global awareness, tying teacher goals to the system's Philosophy of Assessment and the Strategic Plan, initiating Shadow Day for eighth graders, and supporting the "Writing to Look" program that combines art and writing.

He also wants to visit classrooms regularly, help parents involve their children in a service project, and add a bit more structure to the literacy program initiated last year in kindergarten through grade 2.

Martin comes into his new position with 43 years of teaching and school administration. In 1998, while serving as school principal in the School District of the City of York, Martin was one of 10 educators in the United States to receive the prestigious Heroes of Education Award. In 1999, he received the Human Relations Award from the City of York for positive influence on race relations during the 28 years he was employed by the school district.

Martin graduated from Eastern Mennonite University and received his master's degree from University of Virginia. He holds a school administration certification from Western Maryland University. ❖

2001 CLASS REUNION

Twenty-seven 2001 classmates plus 14 spouses and 14 children met in September for their 10-year class reunion. The adults enjoyed catching up in the laid-back atmosphere of Lancaster County Park while the children enjoyed the nearby playground. The reunion included a tasty meal catered by Shady Maple Smorgasboard. For details about this and other class reunions, go to www.lancastrennonite.org and click on "alumni."

Thank you!

Thank you, alumni—including our 388 new donors—who contributed $254,278 during this year's Alumni Phonathon. Your ongoing investment is greatly appreciated. You are making it possible for the school to continue offering an excellent Christ-centered education for our youth.

years of schooling.

I ran cross country and track for the past five years and in the process have made many of my closest friends. Cross country was often very stressful, but my friends helped and encouraged me all the way through. Some of my best memories were made in track when my friends and I were able to run a 3200 relay under eight minutes and get eighth in the state. For the rest of my life I will cherish the memories and friends that I made through running.

In basketball, I had the opportunity to get to know people from many different grades and friend groups, and I got to live out a childhood dream when our team made it to the district championship game. In yearbook, I had the chance to develop my leadership skills as Student Life Section Editor.

Campus Chorale took me to Canada and Oregon for choir festivals—two of the best memories from high school.

Academically, I have been blessed by many great teachers—from Mrs. Moyer in AP Literature to Mr. Evans in chemistry to Mr. Reinford in AP Calculus.

SALLY WENGER

Growing up in the Lancaster Mennonite school system has definitely been an enriching experience. My years at Locust Grove, kindergarten through eighth grade, gave me a strong foundation of Christian education, and attending LMH these past four years has built on that. Through chapels, Friday morning Bible studies, and Bible classes, I have felt myself draw closer to God while learning more and more about him.

LMH also challenged me academically. The many AP classes I have taken have stretched me and helped me to grow, with the teachers being a huge part of that. You can tell that the teachers here genuinely care about you personally and also about how you are doing in the class. They want us to be the best that we can be, and they are glad to help us get there.

Coming to LMH has also allowed me numerous opportunities to be involved in many different things. While here at LMH I was able to participate in Campus Chorale, yearbook, National Honor Society, Student Advancement Committee, field hockey, and the musicals. Being involved in all of these has helped me appreciate the diversity here and learn how to work with different types of people.

SAIER ZENG

Having lived in China until my family moved to America in summer 2009, I found LMH to be God's blessing for me and one of the best choices I have ever made.

My two years at LMH have greatly shaped my life in attaining a better understanding of American culture and becoming a world person.

During the past two years, LMH has blessed me with caring and encouraging teachers who challenged me academically and allowed me to explore myself through various activities. ... For example, Mr. Dietzel has played an important role in my development, not only as a teacher with whom I often shared thoughts and asked for advice, but also as a Millstream advisor who taught me much.

I appreciate what LMH has taught me and look forward to carrying this knowledge and spirit on to see how God will lead me in the exciting future.

I plan to enroll at Emory University to focus on biology and psychology, along with the pre-medicine program. ❖

Thank you for impacting students' lives!

With deepest appreciation, we acknowledge you, alumni and friends of Lancaster Mennonite School, for your investment in a Christ-centered education. You, along with many other individuals, businesses and congregations gave $3,158,000 during 2010-11, making a huge difference in students' lives. Every dollar counts!

2011 FALL FESTIVAL and HOMECOMING

A fun way to support LMS students

Lancaster Mennonite School again offers a fun variety of events at its annual Fall Festival & Homecoming—for alumni and LMS friends alike.

Cruizin' ... anything with engines!

New this year will be a Cruizin' event showcasing old and not-so-old cars, tractors, planes and more. Come out and see these unique items, starting at 11 a.m. Saturday. Consider entering your own set of wheels! A prize will be given to the most popular vehicle.

Iron Bridge 5K Run/Walk

The sixth annual Iron Bridge 5K Run/Walk is set for Saturday at 9:30 a.m. To register for the event go to www.ironbridgerun.org.

Benefit Dinner and Specialty Auction

Saturday evening, registered guests will enjoy fine dining and a specialty auction in the Alumni Dining Hall. The auction will include items such as art by Velma Magill, student apple pies, a Chinese dinner experience by LMS teacher Xiaodong Fan, and a one-week vacation at a bay home in North East, Maryland.

Up the Down Staircase

This fast moving, heartwarming high school production about a young teacher's challenges in the New York City school system runs Thursday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Calvin and Janet High Fine Arts Center.

3v3 Tournament

Support our student athletes through the Brent Nauman Memorial Endowment by participating in the 3v3 tournament Saturday morning. Without a trainer, athletes would be far more vulnerable to injuries and to lasting effects from injuries.

Delicious Hess's Barbecue

Bring your family out to the barbecue Friday and take in the school play afterward. Barbecue is $9.50 for adults and $5.00 for children 3-12. Take outs are 2-8 p.m. and eat in is 4:30-8:00.

For more information contact Matt Weaver at (717) 299-0436, ext. 706, or weaverm@lancastermennonite.org. Or, go to www.lancastermennonite.org.

Thank you!
